Food/Drug/Pet Recall: Ready-To-Eat Meat Snack Products

FSIS Issues Public Health Alert for Ready-To-Eat Meat Snack Products Containing FDA-Regulated Wafers that Have Been Recalled Due to Misbranding and an Undeclared Allergen

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) is issuing a public health alert for ready-to-eat (RTE) meat snack products containing Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulated chocolate wafers that have been recalled due to an undeclared allergen, specifically peanut residue. FSIS is issuing this public health alert to ensure that consumers are aware that this product should not be consumed.

The meat snack items were produced with the recalled chocolate wafers on various dates from January 2, 2023, through January 18, 2023. The following products are subject to the public health alert [view labels]:

2.71-oz. plastic tray packages containing "PRIVATE SELECTION SNACK BOARD SMOKED DRY CURED RED WINE SALAMI" with lot code 11110900408 and Best By dates of "APR 10 2023" and "APR 18 2023".

3-oz. plastic tray packages containing "GREENFIELD NATURAL MEAT CO. SMOKED UNCURED PEPPERONI" with lot code 63100268821 and Best By date "APR 03 2023".

2.9-oz. plastic tray packages containing "PRIVATE SELECTION SNACK BOARD SMOKED DRY CURED SPICY CALABRESE SALAMI" and lot code 11110605471 with Best By date of "APR 03 2023" and "APR 19 2023".

The products subject to the public health alert bear establishment number "645" inside the Canadian mark of inspection. These items were shipped to retail locations nationwide.

The problem was discovered when the producing establishment was notified by their wafer supplier that the chocolate wafers are being recalled because they may contain peanut residue, a known allergen, which is not declared on the label. The Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA) notified FSIS that the recalled wafers were used in products distributed to the United States.

There have been no confirmed reports of adverse reactions due to consumption of these products. Anyone concerned about an injury or illness should contact a healthcare provider.

FSIS is concerned that some product may be in consumers' refrigerators. Consumers who have purchased these products are urged not to consume them. These products should be thrown away or returned to the place of purchase.
